Club News:

The February meeting was held on the 11th. There were 11 members present and we had no visitors.

We are having a great turnout at our Monday evening practice sessions at the Armory. They will continue until March 1st.

June Suaine was back with us and healing nicely after her surgery last month. She thanked us for the flowers sent by the club.

Carla Williamson is checking into the cost of canine oxygen masks for the fire dept to carry on calls. The plan is for the club to donate for the purchase of some of these masks for each fire hall.

Our spring public training classes will begin March 8th. We plan to open the conformation training classes to "pay as you go" for those non members who might want to come in occasionally rather than for the entire 8 weeks.

AKC has opened obedience events up to mixed breed dogs. Whether we open our fall show obedience classes to mixed breed dogs is up to our club.

June made a motion that the club donate $500.00 to Paws for Ability and Cindy seconded it. The motion carried with the membership present.

Another item we will discuss further in future meetings is whether the club should take a position on Professional Handlers wearing the Professional Handler pin in the show ring. The feeling of most of the membership is that it gives the advantage to the professional handler over the regular handler in the ring.

This meeting was also a training meeting. Cindy provided us with a very good DVD on Breeding Dogs. We got through the first half of the DVD and will finish it up at the next training meeting.

Article of the Month:

German Shepherd Makes A Move For The Top Spot

For the 19th consecutive year, the Labrador Retriever is the most popular purebred dog in America, but could this be the last year for the Lab's reign? According to AKC 2009 registration statistics, the German Shepherd Dog overtook the Yorkshire Terrier and is now ranked second most popular breed in the nation for the first time in more than three decades.
